

Stirling Engine

Purpose: To demonstrate a working heat engine that uses the Stirling cycle

Location: room 136, shelf P4

We have two of these engines. The blue one seems to work best, with reagent (denatured) alcohol for fuel. It may take several minutes before the chamber is hot enough to run the engine. Start the engine by spinning the flywheel in the proper direction. (See instructions.)